5. COOKIES, WEB BEACONS AND LOG DATA

A. Cookies. Cookies are bits of electronic information that can be transferred to your computer or other electronic device to uniquely identify your browser. When you use our Site, we may place one or more cookies on your computer or other electronic device. We may use cookies to connect your activity on our Site with other information we maintain about you in order to, for example, store your preferences. The use of cookies helps us improve the quality of the services we provide to you by identifying information which is most interesting to you, tracking trends on our Site, measuring the effectiveness of advertising, or storing information you may want to retrieve on a regular basis. We may use both “session” and “persistent” cookies on our Site. A “session” cookie stores information about you only while you are visiting our Site and it is deleted when you leave the Site. Persistent cookies store information about you, your preferences, and information about other websites you visit, and it remains on your computer or device after you leave our Site. You have the ability to accept or decline cookies by modifying the settings in your browser. At any time, you may adjust your browser settings to refuse cookies according to the instructions related to your browser. Please know that certain areas and features of our Site may be affected by turning off cookies and you should be aware that disabling cookies or similar devices might prevent you from accessing some of our content or experiencing certain features as designed. Unless you have adjusted your browser setting so that it will refuse cookies, our system may place cookies when you log on to our Site.

B. Web beacons. Web beacons are transparent graphic images placed in emails or web pages to record the simple actions of users. Unlike cookies, beacons are embedded on websites, not downloaded on your computer or device. Web beacons collect only limited information, such as time and date of a page being viewed, and a description of the page on which the web beacon resides (the URL). We may use web beacons to better manage content on our Site.

C. Log Files. Log data collected on web servers supplies us with aggregate information about the number of visits to different pages on our Site. We may use such aggregate information to improve access to our content based on our visitors’ browsers and operating system types to make our content available to as many users as possible. We do not link “log data” collected to personally identifiable information submitted by users in connection with their use of the Site.

D. This Privacy Policy covers the use of tracking technologies by Laneaxis and does not cover the use of cookies or other technologies by any advertisers. Some of our third-party service providers may use cookies on our Site but we have no access to or control over these cookies.

E. BY AGREEING TO THIS PRIVACY POLICY AND ACCESSING THE SITE, YOU ARE CONSENTING TO THE USE OF TRACKING TECHNOLOGIES AS SET FORTH IN THIS PRIVACY POLICY.

In order to make sure you understand how our Analytics Partner handles your information and interactions with our Site, please read our Analytics Partner’s terms of service as Laneaxis has no ability to control or monitor our Analytics Partners’ data collection or data use practices. 8. LINKS TO OTHER SITES

Our Site may contain links to other websites. The fact that we link to a website is not an endorsement, authorization or representation of our affiliation with that third party. We do not exercise control over third-party websites. These other websites may place their own cookies or other files on your computer, collect data, or solicit personal information from you.
